on 14th Feb 2013 bunch of SAM(Student in Microbiology) members, guided by their enthusiastic Coordinator Shiva Sir, and unanimously supported by Dr. Manwar and inspired by a friend Mr. Rajesh Jain, SAM made its day a winning day of life. The gang celebrated Valentines Day of LOVE with orphan Kids in Jlvankha Balgruh, Parbhani. Love was redefined by their teachers. As shown in the photograph of all the kids 2 of them in last stages, rest in their initial stages with hopes filled to the brim by a even more crazier enthusiast Dr. Pawan Chandak, who along with his wife Dr. Asha Chandak are breathing fresh AIR (Pawan) and HOPES (Asha) in these little angels. According to a dilligent study of their nutrition, health, and medical status Dr. Chandak states that the daily meal for these children of GOD costs 500/-. SAM Coordinator has selflessly pledged to contribute at least one day of every month throughout the year, as a part of SAM activity. This day saw the begining of the act. Dr. Chandak states that though monetary contributions help a lot, more than anything else these children desire LOVE, as they are consciously neglected by the society. SAM members have pledged to spend their time with these kids as and when available, by telling stories, drawings, playing, etc. It was a emotional evening and the kids were not ready to part nor the SAM members thought it was time to go when the sun set down today. Dr. Manwar spent time blowing soap bubbles and Dr. Shiva Aithal enthralled everyone with some magic tricks, sweets and distributing comics. The SAM members read out a few stories. We all pray god to give this bunch of angels whatever his reputation demands. We also wish Dr. Pawan Chandak all the very best in his magnamously endeavor and hope SAM's relation established today is just the beginning.
